Memorial Day observed on Courthouse Square with wreath-laying ceremony

By Caleb Walters

The Pickens County Commission met last Tuesday to address a lengthy agenda, with action items ranging from tax holidays to horseback riding to low interest rates to increasing the salary of a county employee.

The Commission voted to participate in the state of Alabama’s tax holiday during the weekend of August 1-3. Commissioner Wilma Collins voted to make a motion to participate in the tax holiday, and Commissioner Tim Browning seconded the motion. It was unanimously approved.

SALARIES OF EMPLOYEE

The longest deliberation of the meeting came as the Commission discussed a proposed pay increase for a county employee at the county landfill. Divine Potter has been placed in the position of Operator-Director III with a Class A CDL license, which carries a higher rate of pay than her previous position.

First, Commissioner Frederick Reddick made a motion to have the item removed from the agenda completely, citing that the position should be percent and not pay only for the employee position. However, when Mrs. Bowles said she would make a motion on the item, the motion was seconded by Browning and it was unanimously approved.

Best wishes for the future!

Sincerely,

David Tuten, M.D.

WASHINGTON—Last week, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) released the third edition of a report, Climate Indicators for the United States, that pulls together observational data on key measures of our environment, including U.S. and global temperature and precipitation, sea level rise, and vegetation changes over the past 20 years, and growing season, summer, and warming trends. With 80 indicators, the report demonstrates that climate change is already affecting our environment and society, across all sectors and countries.

“These indicators make it clear that climate change is a serious problem and is happening now here in the U.S. and around the world,” said Janet McCabe, acting assistant administrator for EPA’s Office of Air and Radiation. “Every single indicator shows a trend that demonstrates that climate change is already affecting our environment and society, across all sectors and countries. It’s time we do something about it.”

In addition, the report adds four new features that connect indicators: Lyme disease, heating and cooling degree days, and two loss indicators: flooding and drought. The report demonstrates that climate change is already affecting our environment and society, across all sectors and countries.

The third edition of the Indicators report, which was published in 2012, adds additional data on 37 new indicators including: Lyme disease, heating and cooling degree days, flooding, drought, and forest conditions. The report demonstrates that climate change is already affecting our environment and society, across all sectors and countries.

The Gardeners present donation to Aliceville

The Gardeners are thankful for the donation received from the Aliceville Garden Club for flower beds around the downtown area. Johnie McKinzey of The Gardeners presented the Council the $500 check on behalf of the city. He said that the total cost of planting the knockout roses to match the look of a few beds downtown and in front of City Hall would be about $1000, and that the donation from the Garden Club would be used to offset that cost. McKinzey thanked the Gardeners on behalf of the city.Councilman Robert added his support for the project and thanked the Gardeners on behalf of the city.

OTHER ACTION

In other action, the Council:

---agreed to the installation of a two-tone lamp sum payments to the city assembles until their next meeting on June 4.
---renewed several comments from Police Chief Tonnie Jones about recent events in the city. He had not received any negative feedback about the Freedom Creek Blues Festival, he said. He also said that the Memorial Day holiday resulted in a "good weekend," citing that there were no fatalities in the area to report.
---heard a warning from Jones, cautioning citizens to be careful when dealing with phone calls from unknown callers, as there have been several instances of scams in the area (particularly the Green Dot Card scams). Jones said that if anyone receives a call from a number that has already been filled. He said that the total cost of the project would be about $1000, and that the donation from the Garden Club would be used to offset that cost.

---mentioned the need for more special events to help the city grow economically. Specifically, Councilman Robert Wilder mentioned the success of the Freedom Creek Blues
Festival and the recent softball tournament events which helped draw attention to the city mall.

---discussed the need to declare two old police cars as unusable property as they no longer run.
---recollected a compliment about the flower baskets placed around the city.

In the addition to the emotional toll, MS can have a long-term effect on a family. The direct and indirect costs of MS, including lost wages—even for those with health insurance, are estimated at more than $22,000 per year, primarily due to the high medical costs that a disease like MS can cause in a lifetime. I plan to attend the University of South Alabama to pursue a career in health and assist others with multiple sclerosis in their life journey.

Program Continues To Grow

The Society established in 1946, and 11 years ago, it and immediately became a source of comfort and encouragement to families concerned about Project MAC - a very different and less diagnosed than the ones we are diagnosed between the ages of 20 and 50. The Society exists to offer support to the millions diagnosed with MS or having a family member or friend living with MS. The Society, through its various programs and services, has been able to help support over 700 new and returning college students across the country. Our scholarships and grants are available to people who want to do something to make a difference in the lives of those affected by multiple sclerosis. The Society offers educational scholarships for high school students, and provides scholarships to 27 students who live with MS or have a family member affected by the disease. For the Family and the Friends of the Families who are affected by multiple sclerosis, the National MS Society has announced this year’s recipients of its annual Scholarship Program and presented scholarships to 27 high school seniors who have been diagnosed with Multiple Sclerosis.

The program helps students to continue their education by providing a college or technical education. Students must be at least 18 years old and open to high school seniors who are affected by MS or a family member who has been diagnosed with MS. Those with a MS diagnosis must be applying to a four-year college, a two-year college, a technical school, or a training or employment program. These are students affected by multiple sclerosis.
