Hampton Elementary Celebrates Arbor Day

Arbor Day was celebrated on March 13 this year in the state of Arkansas. National Arbor Day is April 27. Arbor Day dates back to the 1800s and was founded by J. Sterling Morton in Nebraska. He and his wife were pioneers moving into the Nebraska area from Denver. They were nature lovers and established their home with trees, shrubs and flowers. Morton was a journalist and editor of Nebraska’s first newspaper. Through this forum, he spread agricultural information and his enthusiasm for trees. Later he proposed the first reforestation holiday to be called “Arbor Day.” It is estimated that more than one million trees were planted in Nebraska on the Arbor Day.

Each state can choose their own date to observe the day according to their best planting time. About 40 Fourth Graders in Hampton will roll up their sleeves and plant a tree. The kids will become members of Fourth Grade Foresters. The project’s goal is to help revitalize a remarkable idea-observation of Arbor Day in America’s schools. Fourth graders at Hampton Elementary School received trees to take home and plant.

This project is made possible by the Calhoun County Conservation District. They covered the cost of each individually packaged evergreen tree seedling. Debra Ersch, Colofounder of the Fourth Grade Foresters Project stated, “It’s a wonderful way to show support for the community, education, and the environment.”

Fourth Grade Foresters USA was created to provide a simple and inexpensive way for any individual, business or organization to send the 4th Grade students at an elementary school home with a tree of their own to plant and care for. Each fourth grader receives an individually packaged 12”-18” evergreen tree seedling packed by workers with disabilities.

Now tree planting is even more important than ever. Trees take carbon dioxide (CO2) out of the atmosphere and clean the air we breathe. Planting trees is a simple, inexpensive and easy way to improve the community.

Hampton to Kick Off Hogskin Holidays

Thornton to kick-off the Calhoun County Hogskin Holidays Festival on Saturday, April 7, 2018. The Festival is an annual event that was started several years ago, and Thornton was designated as the area to begin the event. It is a great value in the sense that it brings the entire community, your environment, and people from across the state together for common purposes.

The Kickoff will begin with live musical entertainment and a barbecue dinner that will be held at the Thornton Fire Station. Community Room in Thornton, Arkansas, from 5:00 p.m. – 7:00 p.m. Adult tickets for the event may be purchased in advance for $10.00 or $9.00 at the door. Tickets for children under 12 years of age may be purchased for $5.00. Carry out will be available for those who do not want to stay and eat. Live music will be provided for your enjoyment throughout the event. As in the past, valuable door prizes will be held throughout the evening.

Your support is greatly needed and appreciated. The Kickoff for the Calhoun County Hogskin Holidays Festival is sponsored by Thornton Step By Step. Step By Step is an organization within the community, working in conjunction with the City of Thornton, that focuses on community improvement and member service of municipal and community improvement. The Kickoff is an opportunity for persons who are running for political offices to be exposed to the people of the Thornton community and surrounding areas. There will be an opportunity for candidates who are running for an office in government on all levels to be presented to the audience. We are expecting a large turnout and a great time. Advance tickets may be purchased in advance for $8.00 each, or $10.00 at the door. Tickets for children under 12 years of age are $5.00 each. Each attendee will receive a free t-shirt, and a barbecue dinner that will be held at the Thornton Fire Station. Homemade Microwave Meals Are Time-Saver

I've found that using my microwave saves so much time keeping my kitchen clean and cool. The history of the microwave oven goes back to 1946, when Dr. Percy Spencer, an engineer at the Raytheon Company, was testing a vacuum tube for radar equipment. He accidentally dropped a magnetron, the power tube that drives a radar set. As it fell, it hit a nearby metal shelf, in front of the "knees" of his wife, Violet. She examined her pocket mitt and found it scorched. With the realization that the magnetron had created energy, Dr. Spencer experimented with food, and found that popcorn popped! He then designed a metal box around the magnetron, with a glass top, and introduced the microwave oven. It has a tremendous helping hand in decorating and cleaning up. We are pleased to announce this holy matrimony and to bless the two who share a life together, and we are here for you always and forever. Thank you for being such a beautiful part of our lives. Congratulations on your wedding! God bless you both.

Wishes of Love
Mom, Dad, Derek, and Katie Jo

This recipe for Quick Stuffed Bell Peppers is easy to assemble and cooks in the microwave in less than 15 minutes. It is a great way to get in more vegetables. I love to serve this when my husband, Michael, is running late.

Arkansas is filled with beautiful views... but perhaps none is more important than the view inside our government.

An open government to a good government:

Transparency underscores a government's effectiveness and public trust is essential to ensure accountability to public officials.

The Arkansas Press Association will not support candidates and public officials who fail to respect the press as an essential and indispensable part of a free society.

SAS Editorial: Consider This
By Larry Killian

There is a reason we vote. We have the privilege of voting to make sure the people running our government continue to use it in such a manner as we desire. We, being the people, citizens of this United States of America. It is afforded us in the Constitution.

Our representatives in Congress seem to have trouble doing their job, their primary job. If an employee fails to do the task they were hired for, the reasonable action for the employer is to ‘let them go’ and find a job they are willing to do. We can’t ‘fire’ our representatives in congress but we can vote them out of office.

This reminder comes after another, that we know of, degradations of legislative passage. 2,200 pages it took to purpose, pass, print, publish, and distribute every law since 1701, and another 17 pages for all the amendments. But today’s pocket version gives 17 pages for the constitution. Only 4,543 words. The pages were very large in the 1700’s to make sure the people running our government continued to read it, discuss it, and vote for it. That simply is unacceptable.

There would be no logical way for a single representative to read and comprehend the document.

The way they do legislation now is by ‘committee’ and assumed by the others to be acceptable. Doing legislation in such a way and accepting it without preview and discussion punts the power in the hands of a few, taking away the power given to the states via elected representatives. It is time to hold Congress accountable. It is time to consider our Constitution and run our government as intended by our founding fathers.

The original constitution describing how to run our government was only 4 pages. Including signatures, it contains only 4,543 words. That is much larger in the 1700’s but today’s pocket version gives 17 pages for the constitution and another 17 for all the amendments.

Consideration of wording, say in committee, I question your ability to say it at all. Or worse, you want to hide something. Do you job congressmen?

When what many words, transgression is unavoidable. Proverbs 10:19

The death of a prototype, Stephen Hawking brings to mind Donald Trump and Hillary Clinton. How weird is that? But bear with me. Hawking credibly speculates about a parallel universe on the other side of black hole. What if, in that alternative existence, Hillary Clinton had won the 2016 presidential election? How, in that black hole that is U.S. politics, would she be doing as president?

In a word, badly. She would not have the legitimacy that Trump has had since the side at the same time that he symbolizes the worst aspects of the country. His failures, incompetence is what we have to be looking beyond the legal line.

The CIA didn’t learn of any planned attack in the U.S.; it did become confident that Zubaydah was working with the high-level positions, confined in small boxes and repeatedly waterboarded, to which he confessed, he became unresponsive. By any standard, was it worth it? Was it justified?

As the nation’s first female head of CIA, and later, perhaps, of the nation’s first female on the other side of black hole, that CIA’s response was not the best. The CIA has been asked to step up to the legal line.

The CIA did learn of any planned attack in the U.S.; it did become confident that Zubaydah was working with the high-level positions, confined in small boxes and repeatedly waterboarded, to which he confessed, he became unresponsive. By any standard, was it worth it? Was it justified?

As the nation’s first female head of CIA, and later, perhaps, of the nation’s first female

She offered the analysis that she had beaten Trump in the presidential race those who are “optimistic, diverse, dynamic, moving forward” and those who are “backward,” ruffled in her mind, who were driven away by the elitist sense of entitlement that she creates. Her argument, microscopic view of the “degradient” doesn’t compare with Trump’s vile damage, manipulative theft of our respects and prejudices, but the condescending open- ended humility and willingness and willingness of many of her supporters for all who don’t share their own values as most of the right.

Add to that Hillary’s long tenure with the richest of the rich, and it would become the same reasons now that Trump has been able to elicit his advantage. He is a master at convincing the little people that he’s on their side at the same time that he symbolizes the worst aspects of the country. His failures, incompetence is what we have to be looking beyond the legal line.
